

PEACE TREATY SIGNED, NAVAL FIGHT OPENS

Administration Leaders Say America's Navy Must Be Prepared

FACES DIFFICULT PATH

Anti-War Pact Ratified by Senate Vote of 85 to 1

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—With the peace treaty signed today, the administration leaders face a difficult path. The anti-war pact, which was passed by the senate today, is a blow to the administration's plan to increase the strength of the American navy.

"Peace is no treaty," America's navy must be prepared for war," was the slogan adopted by administration leaders who just had secured ratification of the anti-war pact.

The navy bill would authorize the construction of 15 new battleships and 15 new aircraft carriers, and a 50 percent increase in naval armament, proposed since the Washington conference.

Proponents of the bill declared that the navy would not place a burden on the 5-5-3 naval ratio with Great Britain, but would merely replace the navy to replace some of the older ships in event of war. The opposition, however, will see the proposed increase on the ground that it means launching the United States on a naval race with Great Britain and Japan.

The navy bill will face a much more difficult path to enactment than the peace treaty. The navy bill has 70 amendments, and the largest amendment would show only 30 amendments. It is unlikely that it will be enacted in its present form, but the opposition may still be able to defeat it.

The anti-war treaty, meanwhile, is being sent back to the senate for ratification. The treaty is a blow to the administration's plan to increase the strength of the American navy.

The President's Jackknives
We Have Some New Planes
And We Need Them
Chinese, $1,000 Each

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

Two friends, invited to the White House yesterday, found the president, who was very cheerful, but rather cheerful in his attitude. He was very cheerful in his attitude.

It is impossible to exaggerate the value of responsibility that has been placed on the president, taking over the nation at the end of a great war, with a bill of billions of dollars.

The newspaper story has it that the president, asked what he planned to do, said he thought he might do a little something. That is not all of the president's plan, of which no one but himself knows anything.

BUT "whittling" is a word that has been used in connection with the president's plan. It is a word that has been used in connection with the president's plan.

The president's plan is a word that has been used in connection with the president's plan.

The president's plan is a word that has been used in connection with the president's plan.

UNCLE SAM'S feet in the Pacific, about to start for winter maneuvers near Panama, will take along the greatest naval fighting fleet ever assembled—200 flying machines, Secretary Wilson and the president, who is a sailor, are to be accompanied on this fact.

Not a ship in the air fleet is more than six months old.

It is a comfort to know that we are building some airships. Panama will send them in case of war.

Panic-Stricken Women, Children are Trapped In Cabins as Wave Hits Ship

Seaman Killed, Many Others Injured When Large British Liner Is Flooded in Heavy Sea; Crew Rescues
Third Class Passengers

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Panic-stricken women and children trapped in flooded cabins, members of the crew swimming for their lives in their quarters, one man killed, steel beams and hatch covers twisted as though they were matches.

These scenes, recalling the Vesuvius disaster, were revealed today as the giant White Star liner Majestic, bound for London, was struck by a wave.

The accident occurred Monday afternoon in mid-Atlantic when a monstrous wave, rising high above the largest British steamship, fell on her, sending thousands of tons of water over her decks and into the third class cabin.

The Majestic was making good time when the wave suddenly appeared. It rose high above the promenade deck, the highest deck on the ship, then struck with a roar.

Tons of water rushed into the third class, causing the elements to collapse and the steel beams to bulge. As the steel side walls were crushed in they cut off the exits from the staterooms.

The water swept into these cabins, Tur to page 11.

AUTOISTS WARNED BY POLICE CHIEF

Parking at Nights Without Lights Must Stop, Thompson Says

A warning was issued today by Police Chief J. W. Thompson to motorists who persist in leaving their automobiles parked on the streets at night without proper lights.

"These cars," said Chief Thompson, "are a menace to the motorists. The cars are covered by snow and it is almost impossible to see them, and with the streets in a slippery condition it is hard to stop a car in time to prevent an accident."

The chief intimated that the police department would soon start to pulling in all cars parked without lights, which means that the owner will be compelled to pay the cost of transportation and the storage bill.

MIND DISEASED?

Contention Laid Before Jury in Murder Trial of George Harsh

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 16.—The contention that George Harsh, confessed "thrill" slayer, is "mentally diseased" was laid today before the jury trying him for the murder of William Smith, a druggist, in an October holdup here.

At the same time, Ben J. Conner, defense attorney, dashed the erstwhile student's hope for freedom when he told the jury that "we are not dreaming of turning this boy back upon society."

INSURANCE AGENTS IN SESSION HERE

Farm Bureau Representatives
Hold Meeting at Hotel
Harding

About 25 agents from five of the eight counties in the Marion district were present at the first winter meeting of the Farm Bureau Mutual Automobile Insurance Co. held today at Hotel Harding.

The meeting was opened at 10 o'clock this morning with an address by Albert Doctor, assistant sales manager of the state Farm Bureau Mutual Automobile Insurance Co., who talked on farm risk automobile insurance.

Marion Poltz, Columbus, lead an open discussion on claims and liability. In the discussion the fact was brought out that one out of every 10 farmers has an automobile accident each year, and counting the 300,000 farmers in the state of Ohio, there will be 30,000 accidents happen to Ohio farmers in the coming year.

Also, an experiment shows that out of 50,000 policyholders in the state, about 65 per cent of the accidents are due to automobile collisions, while about 35 per cent can be classed as liability and property damages.

W. J. Taylor, head of district No. 5, which includes Marion county, was in charge of the meeting.

The delegates enjoyed a dinner in the Hotel Harding dining room at noon today and the meeting was closed about 4 o'clock this afternoon.

JAILED BY REQUEST

Wearry Wanderer Asks To Be Locked
Up in Local Jail

WHO ever heard of a man wanting to go to jail?

Such a man visited police headquarters yesterday afternoon and pleaded with Chief J. W. Thompson to "lock him up."

"I've been walking for days," said the wanderer, "all the way from New York. I've tried to find work and eat and I'm tired of walking. Please lock me up for a while. I'll take my work and eat and I'll find a way to get out."

Chief Thompson found a place for the man to stay last night and this morning he "employed" the wanderer in the city. The wanderer was locked up in the city jail.

HELEN'S ENGAGED

HERKLEY, Cal., Jan. 16.—Dr. Clarence A. Wills, father of Helen Wills, today asserted the impending marriage of the famous tennis star with Frederick S. Moody, Jr., San Francisco, would not interfere with his daughter's future tennis career.

"Of course, she will continue to play tennis," he said.

Miss Wills could not be reached for comment. Her father said she was still asleep, attending a late party last night.

The romance is believed to have had its inception on the Riviera in the spring of 1923, when young Moody and his father and mother were touring Europe and Miss Wills was playing tennis.

UTAH MAN SLATED FOR INTERIOR POST

Louis S. Cates Likely To Be Named for Secretaryship
by Hoover

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The next secretary of the interior probably will be Louis S. Cates, Utah mining engineer.

The post is going to a westerner. That post already has been determined. President-elect Hoover has informed "callers" that his plans to appoint to this office a man who is familiar with the problems of the far west, and who has had actual experience in working them out.

Cates, general manager of the Utah Copper Co., has the backing of most of the far western Republicans in Washington. His appointment has been advocated by Senator Smoot of Utah, a powerful figure in the senate; by Senator Odell of Nevada, and by other outstanding Republicans of the Rocky mountain region, in whose jurisdiction the president-elect has considerable confidence.

The appointment of an engineer to the secretaryship of the interior is peculiarly appropriate in the new administration if for no other reason than that one of the greatest engineering projects of all time—Boulder Dam—is to be undertaken and completed during the next administration.

Mr. Hoover wants the responsible cabinet officer to be a man familiar and sympathetic with the engineering problems of this vast continental continent.

Mr. Hoover's remark to a caller that the secretaryship of the interior is "going west" resulted today in some diminution of the pressure in behalf of Mrs. A. T. Heri, vice chairman of the Republican national committee. Although few persons around Mr. Hoover have ever thought seriously that he would appoint a woman to his cabinet, there has been a steady stream of requests for Mrs. Heri's name.

ANNULMENT OF MARRIAGE IS ASKED IN SUIT

Mother of Edna Hickman
Starts Action in Common Pleas Court

COERCION CHARGED

Girl, 16, Induced To Wed
Man, 56, Under Threat,
Is Charge

Action to annul the marriage of Miss Edna Hickman, 16, to Walter Henry, 56, was started in common pleas court today by Mrs. Archie Hickman, mother of the girl.

Henry and Robert Willis, also involved in the case, are at liberty under $500 bonds, charged with contributing to the delinquency of the Hickman girl. According to Judge Louis B. McNeal, they are scheduled to appear before a jury in juvenile court about Feb. 1. Mrs. Clara Moore, 21, is under sentence to the Mariaville reformatory on the same charge.

Charges Coercion
According to the story told by the Hickman girl when she was found at Henry's room seven days after she disappeared from her home, the trio took her to Zanesville where she was coerced into marrying Henry under threat that her mother had the police after her and that she would be sent away unless she consented to the marriage. The ceremony was performed by a Zanesville minister after a marriage license had been obtained in the probate court there.

Records in the Zanesville probate court show that the Hickman girl gave her age as 21 and said she lived in a nearby village. When Willis and Henry appeared in juvenile court here shortly after their arrest they told Judge McNeal that they had the written consent to the marriage from the girl's father. According to Mrs. Hickman her husband was lured into giving his consent after the marriage had taken place.

Head Not Guilty
Willis and Henry pleaded not guilty to juvenile court and were released under bond. They demanded a jury trial.

A plea of guilty was entered by Mrs. Moore when she was arraigned shortly before the two men. She will be held as a witness in the Willis and Henry case.

TEMPERATURE RISE IS FORECAST HERE

Rain Expected To Follow
Break in Cold Wave
Thursday

"Taking example from the recent 'bullish' stock market, the mercury, official weather indicator, is scheduled to go 'skyrocketing' in Marion tonight and Thursday.

"Tiding temperature Thursday" is the report sent forth by the United States weather bureau. It is expected that rain will follow the rise in temperature.

If another cold snap follows the rain, the expression so popular New Year's eve and day, and which was rejuvenated throughout the state yesterday, will become appropriate, to say the least. That phrase is, "I saw down and go boom."

One 14-year-old child was killed and three others injured by a train when a freight train struck their sled while crossing.

Slim Form Passe

New Creations Give More Publicity to Curves of Wearer

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The slim, boyish form is passe. Advances in dressmaking of what the American girl will wear six weeks from now, as staged today by the Garment Retailers of America, indicate that the slender, straight silhouette is to be supplanted by an outline that gives a bit more publicity to the curves of the wearer.

Maplehurst, many of them with lace hair or puffa—another departure—paraded in new creations that showed that the dominant note of women's apparel when the warm weather hits in will be femininity. Fabrics, moderate trappings in ruffled and other effects, and bright, feminine colors were much in evidence.

TWO thousand retailers from all parts of the country, who are stocking up with these new fashions, nodded approval of the 1929 models. They are very distinctive and in line with the trend away from the "box" age.

The 1929 American girl will not, however, resemble grandmothers in her heyday. The new gowns haven't the slightest suggestion of that get-up of the million shop steers, the bustle and the expanse of silhouette that made for that old, familiar "hour glass shape." Not that, instead, the tendency is to get away from unbecomingly in woman's dress and severity in styles that have cut down manufacturers' profits in recent years.

"YEARS ago it used to take five yards to make a woman's dress," remarked one manufacturer. "Last year some of the gowns required only two yards. This year we are adding half a yard or more, and that means we will sell more cloth."

The 1929 creations, in the opinion of the assembled garment retailers, are "run to go over big" because they are a distinct departure, naturally, (and thus provide variety that will enable the fair sex to stress personality).

SCHOOL BUILDING PLANS RECEIVED

Preliminary Draft Completed for Enlargement of Four Structures

First preliminary plans for addition to four Marion public school buildings have been received from the architects by Superintendent of Schools George A. Bowman. The plans are for the North Main street, Mark street, Pearl street and Glenwood schools.

The plans will be checked and improvements or changes suggested to make them more suitable to local conditions. School authorities consider it unlikely that any contract for the construction of the addition to the four buildings will be let before May.

Although negotiations have been completed for the sale of $750,000 worth of bonds to make funds available immediately for the school building and expansion program, the cash has not yet been turned over to school officials. The Citizens Corporation, of Columbus, successful bidder for the school notes, will deposit $300,000 with officials within a few days. The remaining $450,000 of the note issue will be made available for school purposes as additional money is needed. The notes will be taken up in a year by a bond issue authorized by Marion voters at the last general election. The notes bear five and one-half per cent interest.

COMMITTEES TO GET HOUSE BILLS TODAY

"Yellow Dog" Measure Introduced; New Divorce Proposal Also Up

COLUMBUS, Jan. 18.—The Ohio House of Representatives today is expected to refer to standing committees numerous bills introduced late yesterday. These new measures include a bill by Rep. H. B. Marshall, Cincinnati, known as the "yellow dog" bill, which prohibits any contract between an employer and employee that prohibits the employee from joining a union or decrees his discharge as an employee in case he, or she, joins a union. Other new house bills provide that a divorce shall not become effective until six months after the decree is issued, extend absent voter privileges to the sick and disabled; complete the primaries in presidential years and change the date of the primary to the second Tuesday in May each year; authorize the state health department to regulate and enforce preventive measures, provide stricter regulation of employment agencies by raising the annual fee to $1,000 from $500, make all interstate roads state highways, repeal the law under which abutting property owners are assessed part of the cost of highway improvements, require foreign corporations to pay taxes on credits and bills receivable in Ohio; provide for establishment of a new state board of examiners and license chiropractors (introduced by initiative petition). The senate tax committee unanimously recommended passage of the senate bill reducing the tax on premiums of foreign insurance companies to 2 1/2 from 3 per cent. This action is in accord with a recommendation made by Gov. Myers T. Cooper.

The senate complied with the governor's request that it send back to the governor's office the list of 15 recess appointments made by former Gov. Vic Donahey. The Johnson resolution providing for a joint legislative committee to investigate the fire hazards of the Harman hotel building here, in which are housed the records and offices of the state industrial relations, the highway and the public works departments, was adopted by the senate. The resolution now goes to the house.

102 Bills Introduced During the three working days, the Ohio legislature has been in session, 102 bills were introduced, including 57 in the house and 45 in the senate, besides numerous resolutions.

Rep. L. E. Tush, Delaware county, introduced a bill authorizing the granting of certificates of conveyance and necessity by the state utility commission to holders of federal "star" mail route contracts. Bills designed to prevent interference with funeral processions and to permit all foreign soldiers and sailors to obtain hunting and fishing licenses free were introduced by Rep. Frank A. Poling, Van Wert county.

Smoothness

Never Before Achieved in a Low-Priced Automobile

Of all the exceptional performance qualities resulting from the advanced design of the new Chevrolet Six, none is more impressive than its remarkably smooth operation.

Although the new six-cylinder motor develops 32% more power with higher speed and faster acceleration . . . although it delivers better than twenty miles to the gallon of gasoline——its outstanding feature of performance is a degree of smoothness never before achieved in a low-priced automobile.

Whether you are flashing away from a traffic stop with the accelerator to the floor, whether you are rolling along at twenty-five miles an hour or doing well above sixty on the open road—the power is delivered easily, freely and without annoying vibration.

To achieve such remarkable performance in a car of such low price, Chevrolet spent years in development work. Over 100 different engines were designed, built and subjected to over a million miles of testing at the General Motors Proving Ground before the present motor was adopted. The new power plant has many unusual features, such as the new acceleration pump, the new gasoline pump and filter, and the new automatic lubrication of the rocker arms.

The four-wheel brakes have been newly designed to assure positive, quiet action. Steering has been made easier. And the new Fisher bodies with their new lines, new colors, adjustable driver's seats and new appointments, represent new heights of style, distinction, comfort and outstanding value.

We extend you a cordial invitation to see and drive the new Chevrolet Six. We want you to know how finely the new Chevrolet Six is built and how smoothly it performs!

Danger Signals of High Blood Pressure

"Dizzy spells," hot flashes, pains in the head, shortness of breath, sleeplessness and nervousness usually indicate high blood pressure," warns physician who found treatment to reduce it.

These are symptoms which show an accumulation of poisonous waste matter in the system or that one or more of your organs has weakened and caused the heart to be overtaxed. Check it at once for it is known high blood pressure brings on hardening of the arteries, and other serious conditions.

Norma, a physician's prescription, reduces blood pressure so surely it is regarded as a great medical success. Often one bottle brings prompt relief. Ask for Norma at any drug store.—Adv.

YOUR CREDIT AS AN ASSET

Mr. J. P. Morgan made the statement before a Congressional investigating committee upon one occasion that CHARACTER was the prime basis for credit.

Your ability to secure a loan from your banker is your greatest asset in business success or a business statement and your ability to pay is not so essential as your inclination to pay.

Evading a financial obligation increases it many fold as you have lost an important underlying part of your credit. Think twice before obligating yourself and keep the discharging of your obligation uppermost in your mind.

SEE LITTLE CHANCE
FOR ROAD PROGRAMFederation Seeks One-Cent Increase in Gas Tax Despite Economy WaveCOLUMBUS, Jan. 10.—Apparently opposition to the bills now before the state legislature to reduce the gas tax and lower the Ohio Good Roads and Lowways, is announcing its six-penny (100) road improvement and construction program, proposed a one-cent increase in the gas tax and the doubling of the license plate fees to provide funds for the project.

In a statewide survey just completed, the Good Roads federation pointed out the need of road construction and improvement work to meet the demands that will be made on Ohio roads six years hence. In 1908 there were 10,619 miles in the state; in 1918, 142,020; in 1925, 1,112,933 and in 1935 there will be approximately 2,303,000 automobiles, according to the survey.

The survey pointed out the tentative construction and improvement projects in each county. The total expenditure for these projects would be $150,000,000. By dividing this into a six year program, only a $25-000,000 fund is needed each year.

Approximately $11,000,000 is now available yearly under the present provisions, and the good roads federation proposed that legislation be enacted to provide the remainder of the twenty-five million. An increase of one cent in the gas tax, and doubling the license plate fees would provide the necessary funds, according to the survey.

Doubling of the license plate fees, or bringing them back to where they were several years ago, would add about $6,000,000 revenue for the work, the survey declared. The current tax increase would bring in $5-000,000, thus bringing the total up to the necessary $25,000,000.

This presents the most feasible plan for raising the money, the survey concluded. Two other plans remain. One is a direct property tax and the other a bond issue. Neither is feasible, the good roads federation officials declared. In asking the people of the Buckeye state to support their mammoth road program.

Either of the two other plans, a bond issue or a direct property, would place the tax assessment where it doesn't belong, the road survey stated. The one-cent tax increase and the doubling of the license plate fee would place the cost of the program on the right persons, namely the users of the Ohio highways.

A bill is now pending before the house of representatives to reduce the gas tax one cent. This, therefore, presents a startling contrast to the federation program. Members of the Good Roads federation are now reported seeking the backing of the state representatives and senators.

This, and the fact that Gov. Myers
T. Cooper assumed office on an economy pledge, seemingly make the good roads project an impossibility. The officials of the organization are optimistic, however, and hope to obtain passage of the proposed measures at this session of the legislature.

How Droll! Here is King
Who Actually Rules Nation

King Alexander of Jugoslavia, who, curiously, is now boss of his own country. Inset, Queen Marie.

Monarch's Coup Seen as Real Cure for Jugoslavia ills

BELGRADE.—If the situation here were not charged with so much political dynamite it might be described as droll. For an amazing thing has happened to six European chancelleries by their own. In this day and age a king has decided to boss his own country.

By blocking out his national parliament, firing his premier and cabinet, suspending the constitution and setting himself up as dictator, King Alexander of Jugoslavia has become the world's one ruling monarch in the fullest sense of the word. The others are mere figureheads, their governments being either in the hands of leaders like Mussolini or Primo de Rivera or constitutionally organized cabinets headed by premiers.

Peering through slitted drap Peering upon the scene like actors counting noses through a slitted backdrop, trained diplomats accredited to the kingdom of the Serbs, the Croats and the Slovenes realize that the king is playing a dangerous game, and calculate that he will lose his crown in a revolution. But if he wins his country will probably enter upon an era of unimpeded peace and prosperity.

Alexander's intentions were so concentrated that the changes came like a bombshell to everybody except General Peter Zivkovich, whom he named premier, and General Stefan Hadjich, appointed to the ministry of war.
There two were alone in the ruler's confidence. And doubtless they acted on the theory that desperate diseases require desperate remedies, for that Jugoslavia was on the verge of serious months, a portion of which time the Croats in the national parliament have remained away from Belgrade to attend their own group Congress at the Croatian capital, Zagreb. The king's action, in dissolving the national body is regarded by them as a distinct triumph.

Northcott Demands to Cross-Examine Nephew; Attorneys May Quit

RIVERSIDE, Cal., Jan. 10.—
Whether or not Gordon Stewart Northcott, accused of slaying three youths on his chicken ranch, will be allowed to cross-examine witnesses will be decided here today. In the event that he is, two of his three attorneys have stated they will withdraw from the case.

At the conclusion of the examination of Sanford Clark, Northcott's nephew and star witness for the state, Northcott leaped to his feet and demanded that he be allowed to cross-examine Clark and other important witnesses for the state.

"I demand the right to cross-examine this witness myself," North-cott shouted. "This story is a pack of lies. My life is at stake and I should be granted the privilege of questioning him."

"bracketed duo" of robbers, who made

000 were fixed in 17 felony counts.

The street car bandits have been the names of Samuel Fribell, 21, said, by police, to have confessed.

KEEPS CHILDREN FROM EVER HAVING BAD COLDS

Doctors Show Best Thing to Do
The Minute Child Begins to Feel a Cold Coming On!

Glad that you took the advice of her family physician, Mrs. H. O.
Grant, like so many Marjorie mothers, resolves how easy it is to keep the whole family free from severe colds during winter weather.

Even the slightest exposure to a draught used to cause her little daughter, Lucille, to catch colds which often became serious. Her last cold was so severe she found it difficult to breathe and the doctor was called at midnight.

On the doctor's advice then she gave double strength doses of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral every half hour. By morning the child was breathing with ease and felt lots better—and the cold was completely gone next day. But her greatest joy came when she found that this hospital certified medication not only ends colds but prevents one from having a bad cold. It used to thru.

The minute the child feels a cold coming on now she is given a pleasant spoonful of Pectoral every half hour for three to five hours. This quickly checks congestion, helps drive out the threatening cold, relieves fever and restores linings of the inflamed air passages to a strong, healthy condition. In this way it ends a cold before it has a chance to take hold. And as a result vast numbers of mothers here find that children can now be spared the misery and danger of winter colds.

Note: Other cases reported daily—all certified by attending physician.

Ayer's Pectoral is made of ingredients as safe as the purest food—recommended for children by the foremost cold clinics. Endorsed by physicians and druggists.

ON THE Streets of Marion

WITH STAR STAFF

Problems of Winter

THESE are trying times on the streets of Marion. Citizens who have been longing for "old fashioned" winter weather got a full supply when they arose Tuesday morning and found about a half inch of snow blanketing the thoroughfares in this way to work.

Some of the old fashioned styles of dress do not go very well with the so-called old-fashioned weather. The majority of citizens, male and female, wear low cut shoes these days and foot gear of that type is not intended for snow that reaches about half-way to the knee.

The job of dumping snow from abutted places after reaching the store or office is an inevitable and not very enjoyable aftermath of a morning stroll following a copious downpouring of the beautiful.

Years ago Marion had in its municipal service an old German street sweeper named George. When he took particular pride in making the streets clean and comfortable for local citizens following a heavy snow.

George watched the forecasts and apparently never went to bed on nights when there was likelihood of an unusually heavy snow, either, to be ready to roll out the city plow crew for cleanup operations.

The result was that when citizens started for their places of employment they invariably found paths cleared on all of the streets.

Possibly Mr. Johnson was provided more satisfactory with funds for the street department than the officials in charge are at this time. At any rate he set a mark that has never been equalled in Marion or since.

All a Mistake

H. V. SUGGLE, supervisor of a clerk in Marion, with offices in the top floor of the Pennsylvania railroad office, received a surprise call from a number of neighbors from the West Side fire department recently.

All the trouble occurred when Suggle and a friend, working over the fire, failed to make the alarm as usual which goes out of a pipe on the front of the building. However, it did not escape the notice of the woman owner of a refreshment store across the street, thinking that

SUFFERING OF 18 YEARS ENDED BY NEW KONJOLA

Rheumatic Pains and Kidney Trouble Yield Quickly to Amazing Powers of New Medicine

MRS. MARGARET SHULL

"How does Konjola do these wonderful things? This question is on hundreds of lips wherever the fame of this new medicine has spread, for this super-compound is renowned for its mastery over the most unrelenting cases.

Konjola is emphatically a medicine of performance, not promises. It does not words. Its 32 ingredients attack the causes of the ailment; results are quick. Take the case of Mrs. Margaret Shull, 412 1/2 North street, northwest New Philadelphia, Ohio. She writes:

"Eighteen long years I was a victim of rheumatism and kidney trouble, and the only relief I ever had from all the medicines and treatments I tried was disappointment. The rheumatic pains though they struck me in every part of my body, centered in my feet and ankles. Dizzy spells, night rising and spells floating before my eyes were unmistakable proof of kidney trouble. I was so sick and weak and suffered so that I feared I would never be well again. At last I tried Konjola. The medicine I found I always needed. Betterment came almost at once and at the end of a week the rheumatic pains subsided and then the kidney condition was completely cleared up. What a joy it is to be well again after 18 years of anguish. As long as I live I shall never cease to praise this master medicine."

Konjola is different from any other known remedy in this section. It contains 22 juices extracted from natural plants which invigorate the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels to a more healthy action. The effect of this Konjola on the entire system brings amazing relief in cases of suffering that has been going on for years. At the same time, more work and run-down systems have been restored to a new state of health through this compound. Such a vast number of men and women in this city have told of their experience with this new medical compound, until now Konjola is the most highly endorsed medicine that is known in this section.

Konjola is sold in Marion at Stump & Sons, Pharmacist and in all the best drug stores throughout this section.—Ad.

Building was on fire, sent in a hurry on call to the fire department and the first thing he knew there was a loud, authoritative voice at the door to his office. Next he was greeted by the sight of two firemen coming through the doorway.

After contacting the fire fighters that they were at a wild goose chase, Steele proceeded on with his work and the firemen went back to their rest.

Surprise Victory

RYAN, who knew these days of the billiard players at the Marion like club with "35" as one of the most popular names.

Center Patton, assistant city auditor, and Mary-Ann Holterstott, local real estate dealer, were regarded as the leading rivals for championship of the club at 35 until our day this week.

The two headlines had arranged for a match game to decide the question of supremacy and a large crowd of fans assembled to witness the clash.

At the final moment Paul Bailey, local dairy company employee, asked permission to participate in the contest. Patton and Holterstott, who had been in great Bailey's request, agreed that while he would be sure to receive a severe beating, the outcome would add variety to the entertainment.

The outcome was that Bailey walked away from both of the previous champions running out, his pants before they had been able to check up a single mark.

The completed 35 stars declaring that accidents will happen are now changing for a return engagement.

In the Limelight

THIS little of absent minded is not limited to professors alone. Others now and then rob that worthy class of gentlemen of their mark of distinction by transgressing from the beaten path. Sometimes it is pathetic, but more often funny.

A singular case of absent mindedness was displayed not long ago in the upper section of Marion. A man walked out of one of the prominent clothing stores with a shiny new topcoat on and a hat box in his hand. As soon as he started down the street people that passed by had grins on their faces and were nudging their companions.

The reason for all the attraction was not his new coat nor the hat which he carried in his hand but was because of the store ticket sticking up beneath the hand of the hat he was wearing proclaiming to the world that the owner wore size 2 1/2.

The incident was probably due to the absent mindedness of the sales man, who possibly lost a customer for his store in the transaction.

An organ built in 1708, and shown at a recent exhibition, has bottles instead of pipes, and the organ does not need retuning, since the bottles are not susceptible to changes of temperature.

Eskimos Don't Take Cold, But That Doesn't Stop Us

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—(Ker.)

Speaking of colds—Cherrie—the cold season generally reaches its peak in February and then decreases. People around 35 years of age are likely to be least susceptible to colds while babies and children up to 10 years are most susceptible.

Women in industry are almost twice as likely to be held up with colds than are men. Eskimos, despite wet feet, draughts and exposure seldom catch colds as long as they stay away from contact with civilization.

These are some of the cold lore revealed today from research work on the common cold which is being conducted by the chemical foundation of New York at the Johns Hopkins Medical school.

With 17 per cent of all diseases of the cold problem, the various angles of the cold problem are so far flung that practically every department of the medical school and the Johns Hopkins hospital will have shares in the research work which will not be over a year in progress.

In this winter and year, people in colds, rubles are being used because they are not yet in a disease label.

PACKARD

The Packard Auxiliary Lubricator, illustrated at the right, provides the cylinder when the choke is pulled.

Most thoroughly and easily lubricated of all fine cars

Standard Eight, whether Theorized, Custom or De Luxe, is protected by the most thorough, complete and convenient lubrication system found on any motor car in the world. In-built factory precision is protected—even against the possibility of your own or your chauffeur's neglect.

"Instant" lubrication—a system by which the chassis bearings may be oiled daily by one pull of a plunger from the driver's seat—has long been a feature of Packard cars.

Improved and extended to include even the new and unique Packard Shock Absorbing System, Packard chassis lubrication protects 38 bearings under the car, oils points inaccessible and frequently neglected on the ordinary chassis, prevents squeaks and rattles, eliminates wear—and insures the long life for which the Packard car is famous.

The Packard Straight Eight power-plank, with its nine-bearing crankshaft, is full force feed lubricated—each cylinder uniformly supplied, each motor bearing thoroughly fed under pressure. An auxiliary lubricator, connected with the choke, automatically conveys oil to the skirt of each piston whenever the choke is pulled out—insuring thorough cylinder lubrication during cold weather starting and warming up.

Packard lubrication, thorough and positive under all weather conditions, is simply pictured and described on a unique wall chart which we want you to see. Come in and examine it, then drive a Packard Eight yourself and oil the chassis while at the wheel. You will gain a new conception of proper motor car lubrication.

The Packard Standard Eight is priced from $2435 to $2835—the Custom Eight from $3175 to $3850—and the Eight De Luxe from $4585 to $5985—at the factory. Individual custom cars are also available to order on the De Luxe chassis.

MRS. PAUL ALEXANDER, of Maumee, widely-known Ohio lecturer, delivered the third of a series of six lectures at a meeting of the Advance club at the home of Mrs. J. H. Cowan, Girard st., yesterday afternoon. After a discussion of the literary output of the year 1932, and the recommendation of several books in various fields, Mrs. Alexander chose for her topic, a review of the book, "John Brown's Body," an epic poem by Bennett. The book deals with the Civil war, and the effect of the hanging of John Brown on the soul of America. It was one of the best sellers of the year, and drew a very large audience to the lecture. Mrs. Alexander said that it is a book of interest to every generation. Mrs. Alexander said, after the lecture, three Junior League members presented a playlet, "Love in a Cottage." The cast included "the wife," Donna Riley, "the husband," Catherine Cheney, and "the vegetable vendor," Joe Klemm.

Flu Milder Than in 1918, But Vicks Sets New Record

Although the 1933 flu this year is not so serious as in 1918, health authorities are urging everybody to treat even the slightest cold at the start, as colds have the tendency to make the body an easy prey to bronchitis or pneumonia.

An interesting response to this warning has been the phenomenal sale for Vicks VapoRub, the popular treatment which proved so helpful in the 1918 epidemic.

In spite of vastly increased capacity, the Vicks laboratories are once more operating at all night long, and are now producing 375,000 jars daily. A substantial part of this increase is attributed to the widespread use of Vicks as a preventive.—Adv.

DANDRUFF
A Sure Way to End It

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid aron, apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid aron at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy never fails.—Adv.

GET RID OF YOUR FAT

Thousands of others have gotten rid of theirs by my simple and efficient method of fat reduction without starvation diet or burdensome exercise, often at a very rapid rate and WITHOUT PAYMENT until reduction has taken place.

I am a licensed practicing physician and have made a careful study of the physiological requirements of the human body. This has enabled me to select such ingredients and in such proportion as in my opinion will produce not only a loss of weight without harm and an improvement in health, but with it an alleviation of all of the troublesome symptoms which frequently accompany and often are a direct result of overindulgence, such as shortness of breath on slight exertion, palpitation of the heart, etc., not to speak of the relief from the embarrassment of being too stout. Stout persons suffering from such diseases as Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Eczema, Asthma and high blood pressure are greatly relieved by a reduction of their superfluous fat.

My treatment will relieve that depressed, tired, sleepy feeling, giving you the renewed energy and vigor which come as a result of the loss of superfluous fat.

If you are overindulgent do not postpone but sit down right now and send for my FREE TRIAL TREATMENT and my plan whereby I am to be PAID ONLY AFTER REDUCTION HAS TAKEN PLACE if you so desire.

Love's Awakening
The Heart Story of a Woman's Lasting Affections

BY ADELE GARRISON
Ronald Wins Special Permission to Call on Sister

MARION gave a rather little explanation as her classmate put the query concerning the "book," meaning Ronald Britton. But I did not believe she was as annoyed as her voice would indicate. She did not whisper, either, as did the girl accepting her.

"He isn't a snob," she said a bit primly. "He's a brother of that girl with me, who's going to be my roommate if Mrs. B'll let us."

"Climb down the cupola," the other girl admonished. "The 'book' that 'brother's' brother' hope be for us. We all saw the way he was laughing you. And the girls told me to warn you if you don't introduce him to all of us and bring him down for the senior hop your life won't be worth living this year."

She whisked away upon the last word, and Marion, with face and eyes springing back to look annoyed, but failing miserably, came to her mother's side and caught her hand.

"There's Mrs. B. in the hall now," she whispered excitedly. "Let's catch her before she gets away."

The next minute we were being welcomed by a tall, magnificently proportioned woman, whose somewhat regal gracefulness was tempered by the humorous glint in her clear, blue eyes.

"Now, Marion," she said when she had greeted Lillian and acknowledged my introduction to her "what is it that I see in your eyes? You want to ask me something, don't you?"

"Yes, I do," Marion answered bravely, and then she told of Carol's writing with her mother outside and her wish that her new friend should be her roommate.

Mrs. Barnes smiled no time in making her decision. "If your mother approves, and I see she will, I shall be very glad to make the arrangement," she said. "Let me see Carol is to be a roomer, and I haven't seen her yet. Would you find it convenient to have her come into the school today instead of tomorrow, when the new girls are supposed to arrive? I might waive the rules if it wouldn't interfere with your program."

Her eyes were twinkling as she put this question, and Marion laughed gleefully. "I am sure it will be convenient," she said demurely, and then she said, "Oh, Mrs. Barnes, you are so wonderful to me."

"Well, admit all that," Mrs. Barnes smiled. "Run along now and bring Carolyn in. Did you say her mother was with her?"

"Yes, Mrs. Barnes," Marion answered then what a beautiful appealing look at her mother.

"Also her brother," Lillian said. "A young man who wishes to sing the front doorbell of Whitney occasionally."

"Ah!" Mrs. Barnes' voice held comprehending amusement. "What is his name, Marion, do you know?"

Marion's face was crimson, but her voice was clear, though low. "Ronald Britton," she said. "That sounds attractive," Mrs. Barnes commented, with another twinkle. "We want to be able to recognize him when he comes down to see his sister."

Marion scurried off apparently not noticing the mischievous hesitation in Mrs. Barnes' voice. But I saw that when her neck was crimson.

"I might as well give you now my formal approval of Ronald's occasional calls upon Marion," Lillian said hurriedly. "I had hoped she would get through her senior year without any nonsense of that sort, but Ronald Britton's mother is a friend of many years ago, who recently has come back into my life. And her son is really a charming chap. I cannot forbid his attentions to Marion."

Marion Audience Enjoys Program Presented by Columbus Guest Soloist

Group of Piano Numbers Played by Marie Hertenstein Waller Classified as One of Best Ever Heard Here; Appears with Local Chorus in Lecture-Recital Concert

Inspired by the sentiment of the composers and in perfect accord with their moods, Marie Hertenstein Waller, of Columbus, presented one of the most beautiful groups of piano numbers ever given by an artist from the state of the Star audience when she appeared as a guest artist of the Marion Lecture-Recital club last night. Her appearance was as a solo artist with the club chorus, under the capable direction of Mrs. Edith Kauser Unger, of Beavercreek.

Her touch was at once powerful and tender, striking or caressing the keys of the piano at the will of the player, bringing forth famous waltzes, the performer among the great artists of the piano.

Opening Numbers
Mrs. Waller presented her group after three numbers by the chorus, opening with "Caprice, Opus 29, No. 1," "Paderewski." All the while movement which the composer himself must have brought into play when he wrote it was present in Mrs. Waller's interpretation. This was followed with a soft, lilting piece fitting its name "Melodie," written by Gluck Szpaniat.

The number which won from her audience the most praise and instantaneous applause was the last of her group of six numbers, an arrangement, "The Beautiful Blue Danube," Strauss-Schubert-Etler. This waltzing composition, whose ever good music is played, and "ch in rhythm and melody, was a favorite with every person in the auditorium.

"Ballet des ombres Heureuses," Gluck-Friedman, has a melody running through it that inspires the audience to recall words set to music just as beautiful Chopin's "Im Promptu," P. sharp, showed the splendid strength of Mrs. Waller's hands, and the power with which she presents her numbers.

A Castilian dance, "Seguidilla," Albeniz, was a delightful, and in repeated measures, staccato, with the verve and dash of the native Spanish.

The club chorus opened the program with "The Legend of the Dutchman," Bloke, telling a fantastic story of this most lovely of summer flowers. Soprano solos were sung by Mrs. Edith Kauser Unger, director, in a clear, strong voice. The contralto solos were by Mrs. Lela Moore, a singer with a pleasing, full voice.

The second of the chorus group was "Troom, Troom (underneath De Meuse)," Choutan, a southern song and a classic number was "Listen to the Lullaby," Dett, with a soprano solo by Mrs. Albert Lauber, possessor of a steady, true soprano voice.

Closing the program, the chorus gave "A Mother Goose Air," Lullaby, a grouping of favorite children's tales. Miss Melina Sumner, accompanied the chorus in its numbers.

The next appearance of the club will be Jan. 25 at Hotel Harding.

NEED REVISION OF JUDICIAL MACHINERY

Courts Clogged with Liquor Cases; Many Are of Minor Variety

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—A complete revision of the federal judicial machinery will be necessary before prohibition enforcement can be effective.

Revising the court structure would necessarily mean the creation of a lower tribunal, much in the nature of the ordinary police court, before which minor dry cases could be disposed of.

These statements were given to the International News Service today by an expert on prohibition affairs who undoubtedly will be one of the most important witnesses before the committee to investigate enforcement, expected to be appointed by President-elect Hoover.

There are 21,000 dry cases pending before the federal courts today, the authority declared. "About two-thirds of them are cases which under state or municipal laws would go before a police court or justice of the peace."

Courts Clogged

"The courts are so clogged with these actions, frequently ending with fines of not more than $10, that it is some times two years before prohibition matters may complete their course through the tangled judicial maze."

The quickest way to make prohibition effective, under his plan, is to push through the mazes of red tape, which surround prosecution of cases. It was pointed out that regardless of the character of the case, the offender must be taken before a United States attorney, investigated, turned over to a U. S. commissioner for commitment to a grand jury, indicted, and then await trial by jury.

Congressional provision for a junior court before which the minor cases might be taken and tried with the dispatch of municipal police courts, soon would put the federal authorities in a position to bring about expeditious trial of important major cases.

Many New Laws
"Congress in the last 10 or 15 years has enacted laws setting up a large number of new crimes," it was stated. "The prohibition laws increased many times the duties of the federal courts."

There was the Harbison bar code act, the interstate motor theft act, and others adding to the volume of the court's clamorous work. Other laws increased the civil duties of the federal courts.

"But congress has not materially expanded the judicial structure—only a few more judges have been added and they are trying to handle the vast amount of additional work created by these new laws."

Until the judicial machinery is materially expanded it is held useless to increase the personnel and activities of the prohibition bureau, which at ready is making so many cases that they cannot be promptly handled in the courts.

This view was taken by Secretary Mellon in a letter to Senator Warren, Republican of Wyoming, explaining why the treasury did not at this time desire an additional appropriation of $25,000,000 for enforcement proposed by Senator Harris, Democrat, of Georgia.

"The appropriation was for specific purposes and could not be diverted to the use, along the general lines of prohibition enforcement, which are necessary, according to Mellon's letter.

Giants, Cubs Best Bets, Walsh Says

Hornsby Adds Much Needed Punch to Chicago Club; New York 10 Per Cent Better; Cardinals Doomed for Fall

Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of two articles by Davis J. Walsh, dealing with the pros and cons of the ball clubs of each major league, either by trades or natural depreciation, since the close of the 1928 season.

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Granting the possibility that the boys may yet come to some purpose over a trade or two, it can be conceded more or less today that the National League clubs are set, or in some cases considerably upset, for the 1929 season and that what they happen to muster is approximately what they will have to show when the gun goes. If, therefore, any be estimated, without anything more to fear than violent contradiction, that the two most improved ball clubs in the National League today are the Chicago Cubs and the New York Giants and that, of this pair, the Cubs figure to show the greater improvement.

Hornsby's Slugging Will Help

THE Cubs may be as much as 20 per cent better club for the presence of Hornsby and the drive his punch will give them. The boy friend no longer is a great wasted houseman but the man doesn't who can outslug him from the right side of the plate. He has been a slugging force of the Chicago infield these several years and the club got him without sacrificing anything it couldn't spare. To say that the outfit which hosts the Cubs will win the pennant, is to commit a truism. However, they still aren't any stronger than a New Year's resolution at third base.

THE Giants' improvement hasn't been more than 10 per cent, and

Petty, Wright Deal Aids Teams

THE Pirates and Dodgers probably both will win in the Petty-Wright trade. It staked Pittsburgh to the left hand pitcher it long sought and it took away a player who probably was through at Forbes field, anyway. This addition of Petty, with the Pirates punch behind him, may mean a whole lot in games won and lost, but on the other hand, remaining good, the infield no longer is a fool proof. The Pirates may not have gone back but certainly they haven't come forward very far, either. The club, however, probably got very smart when it attached itself to Earl Healy as its first base man.

AS for the Cardinals, they have torn up half their infield and thrown it away. This Gehrig may be all they say is but the chances are he isn't quite that good and, anyhow, at best only in the position must suffer no matter how you figure it. The pitching has helped considerably in carrying this outfit a long way and it is about due to end the thing a career. Psychological.

ALTHOUGH definitely out of the running, Epworth's victory established themselves as serious contenders for the second half of play, when they administered a 20-1 setback to Trinity Baptist.

In the main set of the Senior Sunday School basketball league last night at the Y. M. C. A.

After trailing 15-13 at half time, the Methodists put on a lustrous finish with Partridge in the leading role to score their victory.

Long and short mappy passes in the last quarter paved the way to the win. Gram and Hugo led Partridge the ball continuously and the lucky center did not miss.

Epworth played a sweet floor game and scored many a basket for his team with his definite work in back court.

Gram also showed his line passing and guarding. Bob and Walt McClintock featured the losers' play, accounting for 14 points between them.

The Baptists offense and defense, from inside when they played, went out of the game in the middle of the last period.

In the first game of the evening, Waldo made a strong last half comeback to conquer the fighting United Brethren quintet, 22 to 11.

At half time the winners found themselves on the short end of a 10 to 6 score, and slipped out in the last half to win hands down.

The youth county five ran up 17 points in the last half while holding the losers to four. Strive was again high man, leading both teams with nine points. Jacobs was high for the losers with three buckets. Vanderhoff, U. H. center, was a little off target, scoring four points.

Central Christians, leading the league with three games won and none lost, found a further in the week Calvary five, barely moving out a 25-21 win.

At the end of the first half, the winners were leading 17 to 8 but could only locate the hoop for eight points in the final half while the losers were ringing the bell for 13 counters.

Ward led both teams with 11 points, and Johnson and Henderson lead the losers with five points each. The Calvary team displayed plenty of fight and may cause a little trouble before play is completed in the league.

Castleman Says Politics Still Played in Olympics

(Star Staff Special)

COLUMBUS, Jan. 10.—That there is still a large amount of "politics" connected with the selection of athletes for the United States Olympic team, in the opinion of Frank Castleman, coach of the track team at Ohio State university and former member of the U. S. Olympic squad.

The control of picking members of teams to represent the United States, however, is gradually slipping into a more "collegiate" circle, according to the Ohio State university member.

Displeased propaganda to the contrary, Castleman, who was present at the meet, believes "The American athletes were not badly rivaled and any feeling of animosity manifested against them was due to the fact that the Americans, in a majority of the past Olympics, had carried off the honors."

Castleman was a member of the track squad which participated in the 1900 Olympics. He has also coached several trackmen who have landed berths on the representative team of the United States.

Two sugar-coated basketball games, that should not be the least bit hard to take will bring to a close a week chock full of high class entertainment for Marion fans.

Fans will be given tonight and Thursday to catch their breath before being sent into another period of frenzied excitement.

Those recovering sufficiently from the effects of the first half of the week will find plenty to take care of in the two contests slated Friday night.

The feature attraction will find Harding, Bell, back-to-back playing their second North Central Ohio league battle at Bucyrus. After knocking Mansfield's titular aspirations toward the South Pole in an early season upset, Harding is collecting his fighting strength to withstand another assault on the Red and Black.

A star on the gridiron Monnette, is the big field goal man of the Bucyrus team. His presence on the floor will make the game mighty tough on the Presidents. Compton had a recent push up his sleeves at Mansfield and fans are looking forward to a few new tricks at Bucyrus.

ELECTRICITY

A servant for EVERY BODY'S COMFORT
In our congested cities good artificial lighting often costs less than poor day lighting. Induced. Measured in terms of the manufacturing operation of the United States, a ten per cent increase in production due to improved lighting would be equivalent to one million workers, one billion dollars in wages, and six and one quarter billion dollars in the value of manufactured products.
